This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. PREFACE.

THE purpose of this work is to fill a void in the records of racing in America, a void caused primarily by the Civil War and its disturbing influence upon racing affairs.

From 1828 to 1845, the summaries of all races run in the United States were published in the Turf Register. Subsequently Porter's Spirit of the Times published them annually in book form as the Racing Calendar, until 1861, when the Civil War ended all racing in that section south of the Potomac, which had long been its chief theatre, and a few years later saw its transfer to the North.

The inauguration of Saratoga as a racing centre in 1863, was followed by Jerome Park in 1866, and racing, which had fallen in popularity in the North some twenty years previously, began a career which has rendered it the National sport of the country. Prospect Park (now known as Gravesend) followed Jerome Park and was in turn followed by Monmouth Park in New Jersey. Yet during this important era no records of races were published in book form. In 1870 Col. Bruce took up the thread Porter had dropped ten years before and published a record of races in connection with the trotting record of that year. Then Mr. Dorling and Mr. Watson published annuals. In 1876 Mr. Crickmore published his admirable "Guide to the Turf," and later, the Messrs. Goodwin issued the Turf Guide.

Still, the racing from 1860 to 1870 remained unrecorded. The omission was a serious one, as the period was one of great historical interest. Aside from its marking the date when racing had finally entered upon its career as a great popular amusement, it was also marked by the appearance upon the scene of some famous racehorses. Planet had closed his brilliant career just as Norfolk, Asteroid and Kentucky, that great triumvirate of Lexington's sons, had taken the field and carried all before them. Idlewild's star had scarcely paled before Ruthless had won the first Belmont Stakes and begun a career that placed her among the great mares of the generation. Mollie Jackson had deserted the post for the paddock and given us an improved edition of herself in Fannie Ludlow, destined to foal the dam of Foxhall. Mr. John Hunter and Mr. Francis Morris, who had for several years stood almost alone as owners of racehorses in the North, had been joined by such gentlemen as Hon. August Belmont, D. D. Withers, W. Constable, L. W. Jerome, John F. Purdy, R. W. Cameron, M. H. Sanford, W. R. Travers, P. S. Forbes and others, who for the first time registered their "Racing Colors."

Moreover, the period from 1860 to 1870 is important in that during that decade were imported such horses as Leamington, Australian, Eclipse, Billet, Phaeton and Glenelg, as well as a large number of mares, several of which founded the most successful racing families of the present day. Many of these animals raced in this country after importation, and their racing career as well as that of their early progeny is of great concern to the breeder and horseman in tracing their speed producing qualities.

To collect this data, to arrange it chronologically and so arrange it to give it order and significance has been no small labor. Mr. Crickmore, the compiler, has, however, obtained and here presents summaries of all races reported during that period; and, as The Spirit of the Times and Turf, Field and Farm were the only racing publications of that time, the obligation of the compiler is so evident as to render acknowledgment unnecessary.
